

ROUTE OF THE CLOUGH ROAD

Victors in Franchise Fight Will Build to Madison Without Further Delay.

ARE 3 CITY ROUTES

The Company Has Privilege of Choice Between Three Roads in This City.

It is a ten to one shot that three-fourths of the citizens who learned that the Janesville Traction company had been granted a franchise to build and operate a road in this city, with a view to extending the line to Madison, could not tell whether the Clough interests had won or lost.

The Janesville Traction company is, to all practical purposes, identical with the Rockford, Beloit, and Janesville road, also known as the Beloit, Delavan Lake, and Janesville line. H. H. Clough is the president of both lines. Transfers will be given between the two lines, and the tracks will be continuous.

Surveys of the several routes to Madison have been made with more or less care, and it is stated that the towns to be touched are practically determined. A semi-official statement made this morning was to the effect that the track would follow in a general way the line of the Milwaukee road to the Capitol City, touching at Milton, Milton Junction, Edgerton, Albion, Stoughton, and possibly MacFarland, skirting the lower chain of lakes.

Edgerton Votes Tonight

Edgerton is to take action on the company's franchise tonight, and the attorney for the Clough interest has gone to that city.

Under the franchise provisions the construction of the road must be commenced within one year, and completed within three years of the date of passage of the ordinance. Both of these limits will be cut down appreciably, it is said.

With transfer privileges to the interurban road now in operation, the line will give a city service embracing points, roughly outlined, between the Choate-Hollister works and the standpipe.

Within the city limits three alternate routes are outlined, and between these decision has not yet been made by the promoters of the line. The routes are as follows:

Three Proposed Routes

Commencing at the intersection of Franklin and West Milwaukee streets, and there connecting with the tracks of the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville Railway Company; thence easterly on said West Milwaukee street to the bridge crossing Rock River, and on and over said bridge or any bridge erected by said company at that point, and on East Milwaukee street to Main street; thence northerly on said Main street to First street; thence easterly on said North First street to Main street; thence northerly on said Main street to Glen street; thence easterly on said Glen street to Hickory street; thence northerly on said Hickory street to a private right of way to St. Mary's avenue; thence easterly on said St. Mary's avenue to Milton avenue; thence northerly along said Milton avenue to the city limits; or, at the option of said Janesville Traction Company, commencing at the intersection of Franklin and West Main streets, and there connecting with the tracks of the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville Railway Company; thence easterly on said West Main street to the easterly line of Rock River, and on a private right of way to Prospect avenue; thence easterly on said Prospect avenue to Main street; thence easterly on said Main street to the intersection of East Milwaukee street, and easterly from said Main street on North First street to Main street; thence northerly on said Main street to Glen street; thence easterly on said Glen street to Hickory street; thence northerly on said Hickory street to a private right of way to St. Mary's avenue; thence easterly on said St. Mary's avenue to Milton avenue; thence northerly on said Milton avenue to the city limits; or, at the option of said Janesville Traction Company, commencing at the intersection of Franklin and West Main streets, and there connecting with the tracks of the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville Railway Company; thence easterly on said West Main street to the easterly line of Rock River, and on a private right of way to Prospect avenue; thence easterly on said Prospect avenue to Main street; thence easterly on said Main street to the intersection of East Milwaukee street, and easterly from said Main street on North First street to Main street; thence northerly on said Main street to Glen street; thence easterly on said Glen street to Hickory street; thence northerly on said Hickory street to a private right of way to St. Mary's avenue; thence easterly on said St. Mary's avenue to Milton avenue; thence northerly on said Milton avenue to the city limits; and on such other streets and avenues as may from time to time be agreed upon between said company and the Common Council of said city.

HOTEL CLERK SHOTS WEALTHY YOUNG WOMAN

Marion Man Is Snubbed by an Heiress, Who May Die of Wounds He Has Inflicted.

Marion, Ind., June 9.—Miss Nora Miller, daughter of a wealthy resident of this city, was shot by Sanford Love, head clerk of the Hatfield hotel. Love had been enamored of Miss Miller for some time and had told his friends that he was engaged to her and had discussed his approaching marriage.

Possibly deeming this premature, Miss Miller quarreled with Love and refused reconciliation. Love, who is of a jealous disposition, was heard to say that he would rather die than see any other man even walking with Miss Miller, and after the quarrel he vowed to kill her and then himself.

Going to the Colonial building, Love waited in the hall until Miss Miller stepped out of the elevator. Then he walked up and spoke to her and when she ignored his presence drew a revolver and fired three. Two of the bullets flew wide, but the third struck the young woman near the heart, causing a wound which may be fatal. Love then turned the weapon on himself, but was prevented from committing suicide by bystanders who had been attracted by the shooting.

DEACON BAER ON THE STAND

The Coal Magnate Was Called Before the Inter State Commerce Commission.

TELLS OF EXPENSE

Says That His Company, the Reading Had Made No Money Carrying the Coal.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) New York, June 9.—President Baer of the Reading road was called to the stand this morning in the interstate commerce commission's inquiry into the charges that coal carrying roads have entered into a combination.

Illegal Combination

The inquiry is shifting down to the bottom the charges that the roads have been acting illegally in the matter and Mr. Baer was called to represent the Reading system, one of the largest of the coal-carrying lines.

Can't Make Money

Baer claimed that he could not make any money by carrying coal at the old rates when everything else had risen in price and the cost of running the roads was also more expensive. His testimony was of little value.

WHOLESALE DEATH TO NUNS BEGUN

A Convent in the Province of Roumania Was Recently Blown Up.

Vienna, June 9.—An attempt was made tonight to blow up the convent of St. Charles Borromeo at Ausig, Roumania. Every window in the building was shattered, but no lives were lost because the rooms occupied by the nuns as sleeping quarters are in the rear of the building considerably removed from the immediate place of the explosion. Great holes were torn in the garden and the building was badly damaged by the explosion of the bombs. It is thought that it was the work of anarchists.

Whether Bois will remain permanently in this monastery or has gone there merely to bury his melancholy for a brief period is not known. His friends think he has concluded that love and hope and beauty's bloom are hollow nothings and that he will stay in the monastery.

WORRY FOR CORBIN'S FRIENDS

Reports That He Will Not Be Given Place on General Staff.

Washington, June 9.—Secretary Root said that no announcement of the names of the two officers selected to fill the two remaining vacancies on the general staff will be made for the present. The most prominently mentioned officers for the detail are Adj. Gen. Corbin, Gen. Chaffee, Gen. Tinker H. Bliss and Gen. Carter. The selection of Gen. S. B. M. Young to be chief of staff has already been determined upon and the minor offices of the general staff have also been announced.

This leaves two vacancies to be filled by the detail of general officers. It is said unofficially that Gen. Bliss and Gen. Carter will be selected, but this cannot be confirmed, and friends of Gen. Corbin say that it would be a direct slap at the adjutant general to appoint Gen. Carter, who until recently was a subordinate in Gen. Corbin's office and has not been a brigadier general a year yet, while Gen. Corbin is the senior major general of the army.

DENIES ATTACK ON THE NAVY

Count von Reventlow Explains Article on Admiral Melville.

Berlin, June 9.—Count von Reventlow has an article in the Tageblatt, in which he denies that he either attacked or flattered Admiral Melville in his recent article in which he controverted Admiral Melville's statement that in some respects the German navy was superior to the American. His sole object in writing the article, he says, was to warn his own countrymen against overestimating the strength of the German navy. He admits, however, that the object of a prior article written by him regarding statements made by Admiral Dewey was to show certain superiorities of the German navy over the American.

MADE PRESIDENT OF EARLHAM

Robert L. Kelley Is Inaugurated as Head of the College.

Richmond, Ind., June 9.—Robert Lincoln Kelley was inaugurated as president of Earlham college June 8 to succeed J. F. Mills, resigned. Besides a large number of citizens and alumni, a score of representatives of prominent colleges and universities were present. It was the fifty-sixth anniversary of the opening of the Quaker institution.

PRISONERS PARADE WITH AMERICAN FLAG

Mineworkers Under Arrest for Violating Court Jurisdiction March to Jail.

Knoxville, Tenn., June 9.—Twenty-seven miners, members of the United Mineworkers of America, marched from the depot to the jail at Clinton, Tenn., with a miner at their head bearing an American flag flying at half mast. Thirty-one miners had been arrested on the charge of having violated an injunction granted by Judge H. G. Kyle in connection with efforts made to resume work at the mines of the Tennessee Coal Company at Briceville, Tenn.

Officials of the United Mineworkers advised the men against giving bond except in four cases and the twenty-seven went to jail. In charge of deputy sheriffs they were brought from Coal Creek to Clinton, the county seat, and after alighting from the train formed a procession and marched to jail with the flag at their head.

It is probable that 100 arrests will be made in the next few days. No attempt was made to resume work at the Tennessee company's mines. The United Mineworkers' officials say that the union must be recognized before work is resumed, and the operators of the mine decline to grant this recognition.

CREWS THROWN IN LAKE MENDOTA

Narrow Escape for the 'Varsity Oarsmen at Madison Yesterday.

Madison, Wis., June 9.—The varsity and first freshmen crews were swamped in a heavy storm that swept over Lake Mendota yesterday afternoon, and were kept clinging to their capsized boats in the water for nearly half an hour.

Coach O'Dea was following the crews in the coaching launch, but the little steamer was too heavily weighted to carry the crew of men, so he ordered the men to stay with the boats, which supported them sufficiently to keep their heads above water.

A large crowd had gathered at the university boathouse, and many rowboats were started to the rescue. All the men were taken off in safety, and in spite of their chilled condition they would not go to the gymnasium until they had safely landed the shells, which were towed in. It is probable that the boats will need considerable repairing before they can be used tomorrow.

The storm which swamped the shells came up unexpectedly about 6 o'clock, shortly after the three crews had started across the lake for the four mile point.

Coach O'Dea saw the storm coming and ordered the coxswains to steer for Picnic point, where the crews were given sprays under the lee shore for nearly half an hour. The storm having abated, the crews started back to the boathouse, but another squall struck the boats and they rapidly filled.

The United Irish League of America will begin extending its organization; plans have been made by the national committee at New York.

University of Illinois class day exercises held at Champaign commencement to take place on Wednesday, with an address by President Thwing of Western Reserve university.

The town of Elguig, Morocco, has been bombarded by French artillery in retaliation of the recent attack by tribesmen on Gov. Gen. Jannart and party; mosque, walls and many houses have been demolished; a protectorate may follow.

ILLINOIS TOWNS FACE FLOODS

About Twenty-Five Thousand Families Are Reported Homeless and in Want.

RESCUERS WORK

One Hundred Persons Are Taken from Housetops at Venice and Other Points.

St. Louis, June 9.—Twenty-five thousand persons are homeless in this vicinity from the high water. Railroad traffic from St. Louis and East St. Louis is paralyzed. Business houses in East St. Louis have been closed by order of Mayor Cook, and an appeal has been issued to every able-bodied citizen to lend his personal efforts to saving the town from the flood. The levee is being banked with sandbags, and hundreds of men are guarding the river front to see that no break shall occur.

Twenty Are Dead.

Twenty lives are known to have been lost. It is reported 200 persons are missing. Over 200,000 acres of rich farming lands are under water. The shipping and manufacturing districts of East St. Louis for three miles along the river front are under water, varying in depth from two to eight feet. The entire loss of property, stock and damage to crops will exceed $3,000,000.

Reports from Venice, Madison, West Madison, Newport, Brooklyn and Granite City indicate that all are under water ranging from ten to twenty-five feet. Desperate efforts are being made to save the homeless, many of whom are marooned on housetops, islands and in the more substantial buildings.

Railroads Suffer.

The heaviest loss has fallen on the railroads, their damage being estimated at $2,000,000. Cahoun, Ill., is deserted, the 500 citizens who were driven from home taking refuge in Alton, which is suffering itself, damage to property being estimated at $500,000.

The river reached 37.5 feet. The weather bureau promises relief when the water shall have registered 38 feet.

East St. Louis is from one to four feet below the level of the water, and if the levee breaks the main part of the city will be flooded and the property loss will be great. Many of the large factories sent their men to the river front to aid in maintaining the embankment.

Delay to Trains.

With all the east side terminal points between Alton and St. Louis in the embrace of the flood and the Merchants' and Eads bridges accessible only to a few lines, St. Louis passenger and freight traffic has been practically suspended. All eastern incoming passenger trains are being held here.

In East St. Louis the situation is critical. Water is seeping through the embankment and flooding the cellars and basements in the central portion of the town. Elliott's frog shops have been converted into a commissary department and hundreds of women are working under the direction of Dr. J. L. Wiggins preparing food for the army of workers which is endeavoring to save the levee. Rush City, Denverside and the portion of towns east of the Southern tracks south of Broadway are under water.

Guard the Bridges.

Guards are on duty at the canal bridge on the Illinois Central tracks at Centerville station, seven miles southeast of East St. Louis. The authorities have closed the space beneath the trestle. Backwater from the river has flooded farms to the south-east and the farmers threaten to cut the timbers blocking the water. Should this be done the waters would back up Pittsburg Lake, which at present reaches to the city limits of East St. Louis, and gain another point of attack on the city.

Dummy trains of the Terminal association, connecting with skirts, began the work of bringing across the river 700 persons who spent Sunday afternoon and night on the tops of houses and on high ground in Madison, Venice and Newport. At Venice only the housetops are visible above the water. Five hundred persons are homeless. Of these 100 were rescued.

Need Food and Clothing.

Several business houses were carried away by the current and stocks valued at thousands of dollars have been destroyed. When the flood struck the town many of the inhabitants were caught in it. A score of persons was found clinging to fences, on roof tops and in the trees. Some had remained in the water fifteen hours and were nearly exhausted. Two hundred are being cared for in the roundhouse of the Terminal association. All are in great need of food and clothing.

National Biscuit company employees' strike in Chicago was postponed until today, when a walk out elsewhere will probably be ordered.

PLUM GOES TO CLOUGH PEOPLE

JANESVILLE TRACTION CO. WINS OUT IN THE COUNCIL.

SECURES FRANCHISE FOR ROAD

Given Permission to Extend Rockford, Beloit and Janesville Line to Capital City.

H. H. Clough and the interests which he represents won out with flying colors in the long fight for franchise privileges. By a unanimous vote the common council last evening favored the Janesville Traction company, of which he is the president, and then turned down the ordinance of which the Southern Wisconsin Interurban railway company comprising local interests has been working.

By the privileges conferred in the ordinance for which the Southern adopted, the Janesville Traction company has only to wait for Mayor A. O. Wilson to add his signature to the ordinance in order to make it possible for the work of construction to begin within the city limits, within the distance prescribed by the ordinance.

In Secret Counsel
Whatever discussion there may have been over the question was withheld from the ears of the crowd that had gathered to hear the outcome of the franchise controversy. As soon as the matter came up the nine aldermen present retired into a caucus behind closed doors, and whatever strife may have occurred there, absolute harmony prevailed after forty-five minutes of secret conference.

So much time was occupied in disposing of the franchise problem that no attempt was made to tackle the mass of business before the council. Instead, the aldermen adjourned to meet again tonight. They delayed long enough to approve a grade of North Main street which demanded immediate attention.

Early in the evening the appointment of G. H. Phillips and G. W. Phelps as special police from June 3 to September 3 was confirmed by the council. This and the North Main street grade were the only business matters which were touched upon in addition to the franchise grant.

Many Matters Presented
A mass of petitions, reports, and bills which the city clerk presented were left with the committees to which they had been referred and will be dealt with this evening.

Among these latter matters were the following:
The usual budget of bills.
Report of the municipal judge for the month of May.

Report of the city treasurer for the month of May.
Bond of George M. McKey as member of the fire and police commission.

An opinion of the city attorney on the right of a member of the common council to sell goods to the city. His opinion was strongly in the negative. He cited laws of this state bearing upon this question, and a mass of decisions upholding his opinion. Whether a corporation, a member of which holds a city office, can enter into a contract with the city, is yet an undecided question in this state. In other states the weight of evidence is strongly in the negative.

A recommendation from H. H. Clough that the Interurban franchise be granted for fifty instead of thirty-five years.

A communication from the voting machine company relative to the purchase of some of the machines by the city.

Want an Ordinance
A request from the Municipal league that an ordinance be passed prohibiting the firing of any gun save the smallest fire crackers within the city limits.

Chief Klein's report of the condition of the fire department. He called attention to the condition of No. 2 hose carriage which has been in use for eighteen years and is so badly worn that it is unfit for service. The wheels, axles, and springs are in good condition and he chief recommended transforming the reel into a hose cart. Paint is also needed on the other pieces of apparatus. The horses at the east side station are not fitted for fire work, and it was asked that authority be given to exchange them for horses better adapted for the work if opportunity offered. In front of the west side station the cement block pavement is so badly worn that it is dangerous, and a brick pavement should be built. The walls of the west side station need pointing with cement in places. The drying stand at the west side station is not in good condition.

City Needs Walks

A list of new walks needed, prepared by the assistant street commissioner.

Report of the light inspector for the month of May.
A communication from Gustave Kusterman of the state board of control calling attention to the need of some covering for the iron beds in the lock-up.

Bids for screens for the city hall. The figures quoted were—The Jeffers Co., $225; A. C. Krueger, $160; Knox & Dalley, $172.50. A fourth sealed proposal was handed in too late.

Franchise Question
After spending nearly forty-five minutes in secret caucus the aldermen returned, and an ordinance granting transfers between the Beloit, Delavan Lake, and Janesville and the Janesville Traction company's roads was rushed through its third reading and passed, under a suspension of the rules.

In accordance with the decision reached in private by the aldermen the Janesville Traction company's ordinance was then presented for passage. Alderman Connell and Schmidley voted against a suspension of rules to place it upon its passage on the ground that no undue haste should be taken in dealing with so important a matter. The rules were suspended, however, and the ordinance was not only placed upon its passage, but passed—and that without a dissenting vote. The application of the Southern Wisconsin Interurban Railway company was indefinitely postponed. The council adjourned to meet again this evening.

Present: Aldermen Matheson, Judd, Mills, Lowell, Hemming, Schmidley, Schwartz, Murray, Connell.
Absent: Alderman Sale.

MERRILL WILL BE PROFESSIONAL

Big Beloit Athlete Will Join the Rockford Team Very Soon.

Ed. Merrill, the former Beloit athlete, has two new jobs. When the college year ends at Lawrence university he will don a Rockford uniform in the Three-league and play in the outfield with Hugh Nicol's cohorts. In the fall according to a special in the Chicago morning papers, the big athlete will go to Colorado college to act as athletic director.

Merrill was graduated from Beloit college last year. He achieved fame in an athletic way at Beloit and was a star at several western inter-collegiate meets and two years in succession as the winner in the 220-yard dash. He was also the champion in the 100-yard and his record of 49.45 is still the western collegiate mark for the 440-yard dash. He competed in big eastern meets under the colors of Milwaukee club and covered himself with glory. Since leaving college he has been athletic coach at Lawrence university, and he made a success of that work, a characteristic of him in anything he undertakes.

Merrill is a six-footer, a splendidly proportioned young man, and a quiet, modest gentleman. He will be played in the outfield. It is quite probable that Merrill will not be seen in the Sunday games as it is understood he has scruples against Sunday playing. A year or two ago when Manager Nicol thought he had him signed Merrill stipulated that he could not play on Sunday.

Manager Nicol did not state when Merrill would report. When the negotiations were first inaugurated it was suggested by the player that he could not come before June 20. In view of the present plight of the team Mr. Nicol may be able to induce Merrill to report at once.

SUNDAY SERMON AT CHRIST CHURCH

SPECIAL TRINITY SUNDAY SERVICE BY REV. BARRINGTON.

THE MEANING OF TRINITY

Its Significance and Peculiar Sanctity Particularly Explained.

At Christ church Sunday morning service there was the Litany and celebration of the Holy Communion. The Reverend Barrington was assisted by the Reverend W. G. Dunbar. It was Trinity Sunday and the subject of Mr. Barrington's sermon was the doctrine of the Trinity. The following is the sermon in part:

The doctrine of the Trinity in unity is both helpful and uplifting. Back of the unity emphasized in the Old Testament scriptures is the feeling of a God who is full of wrath and vengeance, the unutterable Jehovah. The New Testament reveals God as the loving Father, interested in the eternal welfare of His erring children, the incarnate Son offering them life and the divine spirit, pleading with them and enlightening them with the light of the everlasting gospel. Such an idea of God is helpful and uplifting.

But you say, "I don't believe in it." You may be mistaken in this as in that business venture that you rejected. You dismiss it from you but the text is not so easily destroyed.

You say give us fact not mystery. But facts add to mystery instead of solved it. You eat a piece of meat it becomes bone and new tissue. The fact you do not doubt but how the change is wrought is a mystery.

You say "It is contrary to reason." By no means. Reason establishes the foundation of fact and faith builds up that foundation and accepts the mysteries that facts reveal; and so long as our knowledge is limited we cannot get rid of mystery.

The Doctrine Stated

The doctrine may be stated as follows: "The Father is God, the Son is God, the Holy Ghost is God and yet they are not three Gods but God eternal being and manifesting himself as three persons—the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost." This is the universal and necessary truth concerning God and God's creation; of God, man, nature, of earth, paradise, heaven, of birth, death, resurrection, of creation, incarnation, ascension—the only possible form in which life can exist.

Perplexity
The word, "person," perplexes us. In voicing language today "person" means an "individual," but in theological terms there may be forty individuals in one person.

God is Trinity, as you are trinity, poor, soul, and spirit. But Trinity in unity describes the infinite being in terms of personality. "Person" from which is got the word person, means a mark worn by an actor, so a representative or manifestation. You may have seen Edwin Booth as Hamlet, Richard III, or Othello. Here are three personae of the actor Booth.

Illustration

A good illustration of Trinity in unity is given by three plums of water put in three-plum vessel. Let one remain as a liquid, freeze second till it is solid, heat the third until it becomes a gas. Here we have a solid, a liquid, and a gas, one substance of essence and three personae and we call them by different names as water, ice, steam, as though they were different substances, but we know they are not.

So of God: Manifested to us as Creator, we know Him the Almighty Father. Manifested as the redeemer and Son we know Him the Son. Beautiful as sanctifier we know Him as the Holy Spirit.

Tests

Larner declares that there are three tests of a genuine trinity in unity. (1.) A thing cannot exist at all unless it exists in three personae. Hence trinity in unity is necessary to all existence, all life. You order a box from a carpenter. He wants the dimensions; you say you want it three feet long. That is not sufficient. Length only makes a line. Then you say make it two feet wide. Still he cannot finish it. Length and breadth only give surface. There must be a third dimension, depth, say two feet.

The three personae, length, breadth and thickness are then necessary for the existence of the box. (2.) Each personae is and is in the thing itself and the thing itself is and is in each personae. To illustrate: liquid is water, and water is liquid. Ice is water and water is ice. Gas is water and water is gas. So of the Blessed Trinity, the Father is God and God is the Father. The Son is God and God is the Son. The Holy Ghost is God and God is the Holy Ghost. (3.) It is impossible to conceive a thing existing in more or less than three personae. To illustrate take self-consciousness, for only through self-consciousness can we arrive at personality. I know myself subjectively—the mind man. I know myself objectively—the body man. But transcending superior to both these personae and unifying them whereby I arrive at a self-consciousness of the Ego See I myself is the third personae the spirit self. Here is trinity in unity and absolutely necessary because I can not arrive at personality or self-consciousness without the three personae manifested and unified. So of the Blessed Trinity in unity. God eternally being realizes Himself subjectively as the holy spirit objectively as the Son and transcending and unifying; both is the everlasting Father.

Unity

If we know God only as unity, it would simplify matters. It is said. Would it? The Siamese could not believe the missionaries who declared that whole armies could walk over the rivers in Scotland in winter when frozen. They did not know but one persona of this substance, that is the liquid form. Unity to them meant limitation of knowledge. But with you can you conceive of man for example being all body or all mind or all spirit? Yet that is what you insist on when you plead for unity, one persona instead of three. But God being unity all life is unified and God being trinity all life is said to be diversified. Water is unified, but as liquid, solid and gas how many uses can it be put to and do more from what cannot be done under either of the others?

BADGER SCHOOLS NEED BUILDINGS

University Has $140,000 to Start On—Will Begin Work at Once.

The university of Wisconsin will expend nearly $140,000 in new buildings and additions during the year. Architect Jennings met with President-elect Van Hise and Acting President Birge late yesterday afternoon at Madison and decided to place the new chemistry building at the corner of University avenue and Charter streets, now occupied by the tennis courts. This is several blocks from science hall and the majority of the buildings, but the expansion of the university requires that the buildings be grouped scientifically, and as it is believed, a new physics building will follow, the allied departments of chemistry and physics will be kept together.

The chemistry building is to cost $100,000 and while its plans are in a preliminary stage, it is the expectation to build a three story structure, similar to main hall in architectural style, with facings of local stone, if the appropriations will permit.

This building will house the departments of organic and inorganic chemistry, with their various allied branches, and provision may also be made in it for the department of pharmacy. It will be built on the unit system, employed in the construction of German laboratories, permitting the addition of wings with a minimum of expense when more room is needed. Its auditorium will seat 600 students.

The only other improvement of size will be the addition of a wing to the shop building, which will cost $15,000. It will accommodate the electrical laboratories, now badly overcrowded. The upper floor of the wing will be used for Dr. Burgess' rapidly growing departments of applied electro chemistry. Each piece of machinery in the new addition will be run with power supplied from its own motor, that the vibrations incident of the use of shaftings and beltings will be eliminated, making delicate experimental work a possibility.

The sum of $10,000 will be expended on the remodeling of old south hall for the use of the bacteriological department, and an equal sum will be spent in improvements at science hall.

Woman's World

HERE is one good thing about the fashions of this season, there is something for every one—for while tucks, plaits and gaugings are very fashionable, the plain skirt with lace insertion is just as much in vogue, and very fussy and comparatively plain bodices are shown, with sleeves of all styles and fullness. Lace is used more than ever this season; it trims simply everything, from our petticoat to our headgear and sunshade—for lace-covered sunshades are the newest this summer.

The fashionable colors are marine blue, ciel blue, gray, pink, bright red, all brown tints, emerald green, and buff or chamois. This last named is a most beautiful shade of well-baked biscuit tint, the real buff or chamois leather tint, in fact, of years ago—it is the new color this season, and it harmonizes perfectly with pale blue, amethyst, sapphire blue, emerald green, and geranium pink.

Lace borders the new canvas, voile and muslin skirts, either as a deep flounce or as one or two insertions let in, and many new bodices are entirely of lace for wearing with canvas skirts, the sleeve upper part being of canvas, bagging at elbow, then of lace quite tight fitting to wrist, or even longer, to come over the hand as a mitten. The bell sleeve is also popular, opening over a full sleeve of lace banded at wrist.

For dressy wear, white and pale colors are preferred, such as soft greens, pale mauves, grays, chamois or buff, dull soft pinks, and very pale blues.

Materials are fine canvas, soft voiles, delaines, cachemire, hopsack canvas, soft, but of a coarse plaited mesh; then there are tussore silks, plain and spot, and most beautiful canvas goods with insertions, and lace edges interwoven. Foulards are shown in much variety; then in summer woollens, there are soft fine woollen canvas and flaked mixtures, hopsack fabrics—as well as canvas, striped, and spot linens in every shade possible—including black linens, which serve for mourning wear; and are also useful for trimming purposes.

Very large lace collars are worn, ecru, and yellow or buff lace being preferred. Irish crochet, guipure, and coarse torchon or Cluny laces are used, while the new filet or thread lace comes under the smart classification of heavy lace.

The rage for lace this summer promises to outdo all previous records. Then there is an immense demand for dainty collars and cuffs, of lawn, muslin and lace, hemstitched and inserted in every possible manner.

Skirts vary greatly in make—but gauging appears on most of the new models, and mostly in the form of a yoke, from either side of front only—thus leaving the front breadth plain.

Very little material is taken up in the gaugings, so they can be adapted to suit most figures.

Yokes are very popular for skirts, and the newest summer models show yokes of lace; and mostly heavy laces are preferred. Plaited skirts are popular, also plain gored ones, with foot trimmings of numerous tiny flounces.

Tall slight figures look well in the three or four tier skirts, each flounce being most beautifully shaped to cling to the under skirt, and each edged with lace insertion, jet edging, or even fringe. By the way, fringe is used on fleeces, capes and as a border to canvas and silk skirts. Used carefully it is stylish, but certainly discretion is needed as to its arrangement.

Chenille insertions with jet, also chenille fringes, are a great acquisition upon black lace and net gowns.

The combination of blue and emerald green continues fashionable, but wants careful wearing—just as do the hairy or shaggy fabrics, and women of embonpoint should be careful of many of the new fabrics, etc., avoiding most decidedly startling combinations of color, the rough materials, especially in gray, and most certainly the much flaked or blurred fabrics, for there is something in these which tends to increase the appearance of size very materially.

The woman with a small purse, or limited pin money, can dress just as stylishly as her richer sister, if she but exercise taste, and instead of sighing to possess things utterly beyond her purse, she will be content with a simple and well cut gown, and spend her energies and pocket money in the accessories of the toilet, such, for instance, as a smart hat, irreproachable shoes, a pretty neck ruff or cape, nice gloves or petticoat, all of which mean so much to a woman, and tell the secret of the art of successful dressing.

Shoulder capes appear upon every garment, from the simple morning blouses upwards; anyway, if not a cape exactly, then very large collars are worn to come well over the arms. Smart, indeed, are the new capes for outdoor wear, with stole ends more or less long, as may be preferred, and long chenille ends go well with the lace or ribbon shoulder tips or capes.

Everything lies flat on the shoulder in collar effect, and falls over the arms to give the shape now considered correct.

Nothing is hard in outline this year, even flowers are mounted carelessly, as it were, just a gathered bunch tied with grass, and to hang softly. Linen suits—skirts and bolero, or skirt and the short coat—promise to be immensely popular, and they are plain little coat or with a train skirt and coat trimmed with lace insertion and medallions—Teneriffe lace wheels being especially nice for trimming linen gowns and for fashioning the large collars and capes now so much sought after. All thin fabrics have the preference this season, such as voile, delaine, muslin, soft silk, etc., gaugings and tucks are immensely used.

The new dust cloaks are of canvas-like fabrics, canvas linens and tussore silk, and are made in sacque shape, with large lace collar and bell sleeves.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, June 9, 1863.—Two companies of the 18th Wisconsin came down from Lake Superior last night and have gone to join their regiment, which is now with Grant. The companies have been doing duty in the Lake Superior region.

A correspondent at Baton Rouge, under date of May 21st., writes: There are already five regiments of colored troops organized in this department and credited to the state of Louisiana. It is expected that, in all, twenty-eight regiments will be organized at once in the department of General Banks.

LAW DECISIONS FOR LAYMEN

Recent Court Rulings That Will Interest the Busy Reader Very Much.

Murder. The prisoner and his wife agreed to commit suicide together by taking poison. After taking the poison the wife, when in great pain, said repeatedly to the nurse "I'm dying." The nurse was of the opinion that she really thought she was dying, and the doctor did not think there was any prospect of her recovery. The woman then made a statement to the nurse which the prosecution proposed to put in as a dying declaration. Held, that the statement was not admissible. If two persons agree together to commit suicide, and in accordance with that agreement attempt to take their lives, but one of them survives, the survivor is guilty of murder. 35 Chicago Legal News.

Knocking Off the Land to a Deaf Blinder.

The London Law Times, in review of the noteworthy decisions of the judicial year, calls attention to a curious case. The defendant made bids on a sale, and, because of deafness, mistook one lot for another, which he was desirous to acquire. On learning his mistake he refused to sign the contract, and the auctioneer, before leaving the rostrum, purporting to act as his agent, signed it for him. The plaintiff, as owner of the property in dispute, brought suit to compel the defendant to purchase the lot. The court held that from the moment of the hammer falling there was a contract, and dismissed as opposed to principle the defense that the auctioneer could not sign the contract. Van Praagh vs. Everidge, 2 Chancery Reports, 266.

Rights. Plaintiff, a water company, brought an action to restrain the defendant from interfering with and served in art to support a spring upon plaintiff's land. It was the plaintiff's business, under its charter to supply water to the city. The defendant dug a trench on his land in which he collected the water and then turned it to waste. Held, though the owner of the land may for the improvement of his own premises or for his own beneficial use, he must not, for the sole purpose of wasting them, divert such waters, which would be otherwise appropriated by his neighbors for the general welfare of the people. Railway Employees—Hours of Employment.

The supreme court of Rhode Island has recently rendered an opinion to the governor of that state in re "Ten Hour Law for Street Railway corporations." The statute in question forbids an officer of a street railway company to exact more than ten hours of labor from conductors, gripmen, and motormen. The opinion of the court upholds the constitutionality of the act as being within the police power of the legislature, which has the right to control in all matters affecting the public safety, health and welfare.

Contracts—Moral Considerations. Defendant proposed to settle with creditors, among whom was plaintiff, by giving security at an arbitrary valuation of 80 per cent of their face value and his moral obligation to later take back the securities at such valuation. Plaintiff agreed and released defendant. Held, that such moral obligation was a sufficient consideration to support a subsequent promise to take back the securities. 80 N. Y. Supplement, 1042.

Christening the Cruisers.

Miss White, when she broke a bottle of champagne over the bow of the new cruiser, was careful not to use the word "christen," but the Bostonese are already criticizing her for having said: "I name thee 'West Virginia'; may God bless you." They condemn versatility in pronouns. Perhaps the day will come when ships will be named by the painters. Then there will be less trouble.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Breathing.

If this craze for deep breathing is not abated some enthusiasts may inhale more microbes than their lungs can accommodate. Let us hope that the mania will result in a demand for cleaner streets. In many thoroughfares the dust raised by a passing vehicle is almost overpowering. To force it into the lungs cannot be healthful. We must have the dust laid, then breathe deeply afterward. Why not attack the Health Board, which is the butt end of all complaints and which seems to thrive on abuse?—New York Press.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

Johnny and the Spider

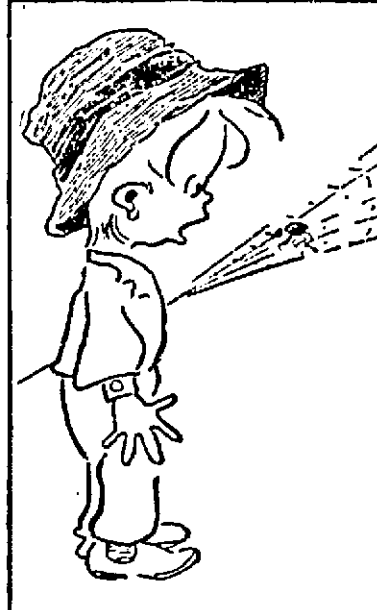

"What are you going to do?" asked the spider as Johnny crept up toward his web.

"I'm going to kill you," answered Johnny.

"Oh, it's just as well, I guess," said the spider. "I'm tired of doing everything for you and having you do nothing for me, so I might as well be done with it."

"What do you do for me?" asked Johnny in surprise.

"When you were asleep last night a great, big black beetle flew into your room and perched on the foot of your bed. He had horrid green eyes and long claws all covered with sharp spikes, and his jaws were filled with teeth as sharp as needles. He said he was going to bite a piece off the end of your nose. I killed him and ate him.

"Night before last when you were asleep a long earwig crawled down the wall and jumped on your pillow. He had 10,000 legs that wriggled all the time, and he had a stinger in his tail and eyes that rolled round and round. He said he was going to crawl into your hair and go to sleep. I killed him and ate him, but he said that he had two cousins from the country who would be here to see you tomorrow night.

"Saturday morning when you were asleep a green eyed—"

"Hold on!" cried Johnny. "Hold on! You mustn't go. You mustn't leave me."

"Oh, yes, you'd better kill me, as you said you would, because then I will not have to sit up all night and fight those things."

"No, no!" exclaimed Johnny. "You dear old spider! I wouldn't harm you for all the world. You must stay here with me always, and I shall always be your friend, as you have been mine." So they shook hands and were happy all the rest of their days.—Chicago Tribune.

Protected Royal Guest.

Just before King Edward's visit to Paris Le Figaro suggested that the government should clean the newspaper kiosques on the boulevards and along the Seine of the filthy caricatures which some of them exhibited for sale. The authorities took no action, but the proprietors of several kiosques withdrew the caricatures during the royal visit. In one or two instances a proprietor who failed to show good taste in this matter was attacked by a crowd of students and his literary and pictorial wares thrown into the street.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Generally fair tonight and Tuesday cooler.

COMMERCE OF ALASKA.

The commerce of Alaska during the fiscal year which ends this month seems likely to aggregate over twenty millions of dollars, exclusive of gold. The Treasury Bureau of Statistics is now collecting and publishing monthly statements of the shipments of merchandise to and from Alaska. This information is now being collected under an act recently passed by Congress at the recommendation of the Bureau of Statistics, giving its authority to collect statistics of the commerce between the United States and its noncontiguous territory. Under its operations the value of the merchandise passing from the United States into Alaska and from Alaska to the various ports of the United States is now for the first time presented.

The figures of shipments from the ports of the United States to Alaska during the ten months ending with April, 1903 aggregate $6,831,070 of merchandise, and $104,359 of gold and silver coin. During the month of April the total shipments of merchandise to Alaska amounted to $2,581,784; and as the opening months of the season are those of heavy shipments to Alaska, it is quite apparent that the total shipments to Alaska during the first fiscal year in which their value is measured, will aggregate between ten and twelve million dollars. A similar statement of the shipments from Alaska to the United States which is also published, shows the total value for twelve months to be $10,101,060 of merchandise. In addition to this, the shipments of gold ore from Alaska, produced in the United States territory, amount to $4,369,496. The shipment of foreign gold ore from Alaska during the period, by which is meant that from the Klondike (Canadian) territory reaching the United States through Alaska aggregates for the same period, $10,972,454.

By far the most important of the articles shipped from Alaska to the United States is canned salmon, the value of which during the ten months ending with April 1903 was $3,401,124, or more in the 10 months in question than the entire sum paid for Alaska in 1867, the sum paid for the territory having been $7,200,000. The next largest items in the shipments from Alaska are: other fish and fish products, $751,984; furs and fur skins, $394,590; whalebone, $115,994; and copper, $100,613. The shipments to Alaska are naturally of an extremely varied character, including provisions, clothing and materials for use of miners and those engaged in the canning industry. The largest single item is manufactures of iron and steel, $1,616,604, of which $730,618 is tin plates and sheets, chiefly for use in manufacturing cans for the salmon canneries.

Next in order are: provisions, $718,273 (of which $162,954 was butter); manufactures of wood, including lumber, $562,454; manufactures of tin, $440,011; breadstuffs, $298,292; wines and liquors, $238,665; tobacco, and manufactures of $188,330; coal, $172,032; fruits; and nuts, $171,601; cotton manufactures, $129,192; and eggs, $128,347.

In addition to the above commerce between Alaska and the other districts of the United States, there is a total of $461,570, imports of foreign merchandise into Alaska during the ten months ending with April, of which $148, was from Canadian territory, $10,776 from England, and $1,873 from Asiatic Russia; also $1,337,197 of exports, all of which went to Canadian territory.

THE NEW INTERURBAN LINE

The council is to be congratulated on having settled the question of interurban franchise. It was due the companies interested to have the matter disposed of, and while opinions differed as to which company should be favored, public sentiment was united in demanding that the concession be granted and without further delay.

The Janesville Traction company is the winner. The council will be criticized to some extent for the verdict rendered, but the people generally will be satisfied, as they would have been had the Southern Wisconsin company succeeded.

Confidence always inspires confidence, and the Rockford, Beloit and Janesville road is an object lesson that satisfied the public. This had much to do with the popularity of the Janesville Traction company. The people felt that there was no experiment about it.

There was no reason to doubt the ability of the men behind the other enterprise, and there were many strong arguments in their favor, but more or less jealousy existed. Janesville has never been noted for extreme loyalty to its own best interests.

The question is settled, however, and the road will be built. That it will be a benefit to the city no one will question. The travel between Beloit and Janesville has multiplied many times since the interurban line commenced operations, and the Madison line will be still more popular. The city has an encouraging outlook and the citizens have occasion to be happy. The Janesville Traction company is to be congratulated.

The president found time last Sunday to attend the dedication of a new reform church in Washington, and to speak for ten minutes from the text, "Serve the Lord with gladness." The nation has a chief executive who is at home in the college, on the ranch, or behind the sacred desk, and he never disappoints an audience.

As a breeder of harmony the governor's Milwaukee organ takes the pan-cake. In a late issue a column is devoted to Senator Whitehead, in an attempt to ridicule him for inconsistency. The paper is ready to join the ranks of populism, free silver, or prohibition, or any old thing to keep up the strife. The weather is a little hot for butting a stone wall for amusement.

Germany is discovering that retaliation works both ways. Secretary Hay has instructed the consular service in Germany to enforce a rigid examination of food products billed for American ports. Germany has taken occasion to criticize American meats, and the criticism was amounted to a bar to our products. Things are likely to be evened up.

The president is back in Washington, and Mr. Payne is still in the cabinet. It will be a disappointment to a few Wisconsin people who have never been able to see any good in Henry Payne, to know that the president heartily endorses his action. There is no misunderstanding between these officials, and the postoffice scandal will be thoroughly ventilated.

The little town of Belleville, Illinois, has tarnished the fair name of the state by lynching and burning a negro murderer. The northern states can hardly afford to tolerate this kind of lawlessness, and it can be said to the credit of the clergy of Belleville, that the deed was denounced emphatically from the various pulpits last Sunday.

It is difficult to realize that while the western states are flooded with water, that New England is suffering from the worst drought in its history. Forest fires are raging at a season of the year when it hardly seems possible that a fire could gain a foothold, and smoke is so dense that the sun is not visible.

The business men of Chicago have adopted the good old fashioned lunch basket. They propose to show the restaurant strikers that they are not dependent. They can now wear clean linen and can afford to live on ham sandwich.

The restaurant strike in Chicago is the latest and promises to be the most effective. It is generally conceded that the shortest route to the heart or intellect is through the stomach.

PRESS COMMENT.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Some of the leading democrats in this state have assured Colonel Bryan that Senator Stone is a technical impossibility in connecting for the presidency, and when a thing is technically impossible in Missouri it is a dead one.

Louisville Courier-Journal: Do not judge the south by those tip-waters who are pouring money in on the Indianapolis chambermaid who refused to make up the bed occupied by Booker Washington. Every section of the country has its tip-waters.

Philadelphia Inquirer: The fact that a member of the 400 got a divorce in twelve minutes must be read in the light of the further fact that it will not be operative for six months. The divorcee baked meats will not coldly furnish forth any wedding guests in this instance.

Washington Post: When former Mayor Ames of Minneapolis was arrested in New England he insisted that the people of Minneapolis would be glad of the opportunity to vote for him again. Twelve of them promptly voted unanimously to give him a six-year term.

Chicago Inter Ocean: The people of the Kaw valley in Kansas, like the people of some other valleys throughout the west, will some day see the wisdom of taking means to save their floods for periods of drought.

Washington Star: Possibly Senator Hanna does not attack much more importance, at this stage of proceedings, to an indorsement than he does to a man's refusal to admit that he is a candidate.

Chicago Record-Herald: It is claimed that Carnegie has more than $100,000,000 left. This, however, may be a mere rumor started by his enemies who want the tax man to get after him.

Washington Star: E. H. Harriman has had his vermiform appendix removed. There is no reason why a man of Mr. Harriman's wealth should forego any of the modern luxuries.

Sioux City Journal: Omaha may be idle, but she is not broke by any means. Two theatrical companies and a circus succeeded in carrying away $15,000 in good, lawful money during a period of twenty-four hours.

Chicago Record-Herald: Foxhall Keene was not hurt in that French automobile race because he was unable to start. Mr. Keene missed a glorious chance to have his collarbone broken in the interests of gentlemanly sport.

New York field guns stamped "Made in Germany" even the German press will concede the effectiveness of this branch of our war service.

Winchester (Va.) Star-Sentinel: Breathless county is improving. The sentiment is growing there, it is said, that it isn't right to assassinate a man on Sunday.

DON'TS FOR THE EYES.

Don't use the eyes before breakfast.

Don't read in a reclining attitude, or in bed.

Don't allow a cold, raw wind to strike the eyes.

Don't use the eyes when they are tired or weak from illness.

Don't bathe eyes that are inflamed with cold water. Use warm water.

Don't wear a veil with black dots, or one woven with double threads.

Don't open the eyes under water when bathing, especially in salt water.

Don't look too steadily from a car window at objects that are constantly flying past you.

Don't neglect to bathe the eyes occasionally in salt water. A weak solution is best.

Don't sleep opposite a window or where a strong light will strike the eyes on awakening.

Don't expose the eyes to a strong light at any time such as sunshine, or gas or lamp light.

Don't work longer than two hours without closing the eyes and resting them for five minutes.

Don't sit facing a strong light. If possible, let the light fall on work or book from over the left shoulder.

Don't have colored shades on the lamps. Use white or ground glass. If you must have a colored shade let it be green.

Don't rub the eyes by outward motion, but toward the nose, which rounds the ball and preserves its normal shape.

Don't fail to consult an oculist if you find that your eyesight is growing dim, or hesitate to wear glasses, if you need them.

Don't try to get a cinder out of the eye by rubbing. Dip a tiny camel's hair brush in oil and draw gently across the eyeball.

Don't fail to wash the eyes every night before retiring so as to remove any dust that may have gathered on the lids during the day.

Don't give up in despair when told that a cataract is forming. In these days of advanced surgery, it can be removed with little or no danger to the vision.

RAIN'S ALL RIGHT.

Don't growl if it does rain.

Rains in the early spring are necessary.

They make bad country roads, and thus help to create public opinion in favor of large appropriations for highway improvement.

If prolonged cold rains did not rot the seeds of early planted vegetables farmers might not find enough to complain about to keep them happy.

If the rains did not keep the baseball grounds too wet for practice the nine would not be deprived of its favorite excuse for not winning the pennant.

The longer rains continue the longer will we be free from the danger of being run down by bicycle scorchers.

Besides, it will keep right on raining, no matter how much you growl.

Also, it is likely at any time to stop raining before you are half through grumbling.

So what's the use?

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

The woman who knows how to manage a man is the one who never lets him know it.

UNHEARD OF IN 13 YEARS

WHEREABOUTS OF JOHN J. REILLY
REVEALED BY DEATH.

WAS STRICKEN WITH CHOLERA

Search Being Made for His Relatives, of Whom Many Live in Janesville.

News of the death of John J. Reilly in a cholera-stricken camp in the Philippines brought to his widowed mother and other relatives in this city the first tidings of him received in thirteen years. The intelligence came through an Associated Press dispatch to a Milwaukee paper which led to an inquiry addressed to the police of this city. A search is being made for his heirs by an administrator of his estate.

J. J. Reilly died recently, the date is not given, at Twin Peaks, Philippine islands, of cholera. Papers left by him proclaimed him a member of the Omaha Carpenters' union and a former resident of Janesville. They also showed that he still has relatives in this city, who are the only heirs of whom information has been received thus far.

Said to be Wealthy

Inquiries to find his relatives were instituted by Frank A. Banaghe, treasurer of the Philippine archipelago, who was appointed administrator to Reilly's estate, which is said to be considerable. Just how much it is is not known definitely, but it is said to consist principally of deposits in the Hawaiian bank of San Francisco. Several dispatches have been sent to Omaha with the hope of securing more definite facts.

Fifteen years ago last March Mr. Reilly, then twenty-seven years of age, left Janesville for Omaha, where he pursued the trade of a carpenter. Two years later a letter was received from him in Seattle, Wash. Since that time his relatives here have been in total darkness regarding his whereabouts.

Many Relatives Here

When he left this city he was unmarried, and so far as is known has not married since. He has a host of relatives in Janesville. His father, Patrick Reilly, died about a year ago, but his widowed mother still lives here, occupying a house near the Fourth ward school, on Galena and High streets. One brother, James F. Reilly, and three sisters, Mrs. Eugene Wall, Mrs. W. J. Conroy, and Mrs. Tom McKune, live here. A sister, Mrs. Hugh Ward, lives in Chicago, and a brother, William Reilly, lives in Oshkosh.

Could Not Retain Life.

After having been pronounced dead by the local physician, a well-known lady, who with her family had long resided in the village of Moore, North Staffordshire, was recently laid ready for interment. All preparations for the funeral had been made and friends and relatives assembled to take a final farewell. As the mourners watched, the eyes of the lady were seen to open and her lips to move. Life had returned to the supposed corpse. The news of the strange event spread throughout the village and district and produced the greatest excitement. To the grief of all, however, there came a relapse, and life was declared to be definitely extinct.

ALUMNI PLAN BIG BANQUET

OLD HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES GREET NEW CLASS.

IS SET FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

Elaborate Program Has Been Arranged for the Happy Occasion.

In honor of the latest additions to their numbers—the class of 1903—the alumni association of the high school has planned an elaborate banquet and program to be given Friday evening.

Vocal music will be furnished by the high school quartette; a piano duet by Mrs. Hyde and Miss Crowley; a violin solo by Oscar Halverson; a vocal solo by Charles Raymond; and a class song by the graduating class.

J. R. Whiffen, president of the alumni association, will make the address of welcome, and Stowe Lovejoy, president of the class of '03 will respond.

The remaining toasts will be on various phases of school life—the Optimist's view by Alice Clithero, '98; the Pessimist's view by Supt. Bell; the Poet's view by Edith Loomis, '02; the Philosopher's view by Bernard Palmer, '96; and the School Board's view by H. J. Cunningham.

A PLEASANT OLD- TIME GATHERING

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy Entertain a Few Friends in a Happy Manner.

About fifty guests were entertained at a six o'clock tea at the home of Hon. and Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy last evening. The gathering was remarkable in that the ages of the guests varied from sixty to eighty-five years, and almost every one present had been a resident of the city for forty years or more.

Early reminiscences were the order of the evening, and a number were present who could remember Janesville as a village, and the state as a territory. Old songs that had not been heard for a generation were sung with old time enthusiasm, and the pulse was a little quicker and the heart beat a little stronger, under the magic influence of old memories called back.

It was a jolly company and the impression prevailed that good people lived as long in Janesville as in any city in the land. In looking over the company it was not difficult to recognize the fact that the city was well founded. While the lines of care and the traces of time had left their imprint, the eye sparkled with old-time lustre, and it was plain to be seen that the men and women whose energies have been freely expended, lived to a purpose.

It is sometimes said that a child is fortunate who is well born. The statement contains more than a grain of truth, and it applies with some force to a city. Janesville is indebted to the grandfathers and grandmothers who camped on the banks of Rock river, half a century ago or more, content to tarry and lay the foundations and aid in developing one of the choicest garden spots in the west.

The town has long been noted for conservatism and common sense. These qualities are inherent and they are still encouraged by the old New England stock, whose presence characterized the little company last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovejoy are good entertainers. Hospitality and good cheer, free from formality, caused the hours to speed away rapidly and when it was time to say, "good night" the little company dispersed, feeling that "it was good to be there."

BERLIN WORKS CLOSE FOUNDRY

Beloit Manufacturing Establishment Close Foundry and Discharge Their Workmen.

"We propose to fight it out along this line if it takes all summer," is understood to be the ultimatum of the Berlin Machine works of Beloit. Last evening the management indefinitely closed down one foundry, which has been running during the strike of the machinists. Great depression in business already exists in Beloit, and this last action will force matters to an issue. The recent assault upon Supt. Lane is thought to be an immediate cause of action.

Ole Johnson

The remains of the late Ole Johnson of Fulton, who died at Janesville Sunday, were taken by hearse to Edgerton this morning. E. P. Ryan having charge. The funeral was held from the Lutheran church at Edgerton at two o'clock. Interment was in the Edgerton cemetery.

Christening a Railway.

Engineers are, as a rule, sternly utilitarian, but there are occasions on which they indulge in sentimental practices. One of these occurred the other day on the completion of the first transcontinental railway in Africa. When the plate-laying gangs from Bulawayo and Salisbury, respectively, came within twenty chains of each other a telegram was sent to the contractors and engineers, who at once arrived on the scene. The rails were joined and two engines proceeded slowly toward each other from each side. Attached to the drawhead of the engine from Salisbury was a bottle of champagne and as the two engines met it was broken and the new railway was named in the orthodox manner.

EPIQUE WHO LIVED HIGH.

Expensive Dishes Provided Famous English Gourmand.

Lord Alvanley, a noted wit and high liver in England a hundred years ago, insisted on having an apple tart on his dinner table every day throughout the year. On one occasion he paid a caterer $1,000 for a luncheon put up in a basket that sufficed a small boat party going up the Thames. Being one of a dozen men dining together at a London club where each was required to produce his own dish, Alvanley's, as the most expensive, won him the advantage of being entertained free of cost. This benefit was gained at an expense of $50, that being the price of a simple fricassee composed entirely of the "mox" or small pieces at each side of the back taken from thirteen kinds of birds, among them being a hundred snipe, forty woodcocks and twenty pheasants—in all about 300 birds.

Uncle Jim's Perspicacity.

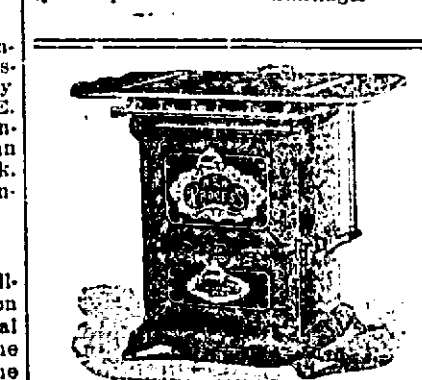

"That there Hezekiah Cornrow makes me mad when I think o' th' way he puts on sense he's been a legislator," remarked Uncle Jim, from the cracker barrel. "How's that?" asked the grocery clerk, picking three ants out of the molasses measure. "Why, he goes 'round the county talkin' about his 'vested rights,' an' yit he never wore a vest in his life ontill he come back fum th' city. You can't fool me, by Jing!"—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

Increased Consumption of Sugar.
The people of the United States now consume eight times as much sugar per capita as they did in the first quarter of the last century, four times as much as the average per capita during the decade ending with 1850, and twice as much as they did in any year prior to 1870.

More Than Fortunate.
A Vermont young man who went to Troy to marry a girl the other day was rejected. The object of his love then gave him enough money to pay his fare home. It is rare that good luck visits a man twice on the same day.—Buffalo Express.

WOMAN'S GENTLE NATURE CALLS FOR GENTLE TREATMENT

Delicately formed and gently reared, women will find, in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives, or mothers, that the one simple, wholesome remedy which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally, and which may be used with truly beneficial effects, under any conditions, when the system needs a laxative, is—Syrup of Figs. It is well known to be a simple combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants with pleasant, aromatic liquids, which are agreeable and refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system when its gentle cleansing is desired.

Many of the ills from which women suffer are of a transient nature and do not come from any organic trouble and it is pleasant to know that they yield so promptly to the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs, but when anything more than a laxative is needed it is best to consult the family physician and to avoid the old-time cathartics and loudly advertised nostrums of the present day. When one needs only to remove the strain, the torpor, the congestion, or similar ills, which attend upon a congested condition of the system, use the true and gentle remedy—Syrup of Figs—and enjoy freedom from the depression, the aches and pains, colds and headaches, which are due to inactivity of the bowels.

Only those who buy the genuine Syrup of Figs can hope to get its beneficial effects and as a guarantee of the excellence of the remedy the full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package and without it any preparation offered as Syrup of Figs is fraudulent and should be declined. To those who know the quality of this excellent laxative, the offer of any substitute, when Syrup of Figs is called for, is always resented by a transfer of patronage to some first-class drug establishment, where they do not recommend, nor sell false brands, nor imitation remedies. The genuine article may be bought of all reliable druggists everywhere at 50 cents per bottle.

NONE WILL IDENTIFY LEADERS OF LYNCHERS

Coroner and State's Attorney Fail to Secure Testimony of Value in The Belleville Case.

Belleville, Ill., June 9.—Despite the fact that the mob that lynched David S. Wyatt of East St. Louis, the negro school teacher who mortally wounded Charles Hertel, county superintendent of schools, worked on the jail more than six hours without masks, little effort toward a rigid investigation has as yet been begun. The coroner's inquest has been concluded. More than fifty witnesses, numbering some of the leading citizens, many of whom actually saw Wyatt lynched and his body burned, were examined by State's Attorney Farmer. None testified to the identity of any member of the mob.

Mayor Kern stated that it was true that he had advised the deputies not to fire on the mob. He gave as his reasons for this that he would have only precipitated a pitched battle, as the mob was heavily armed and determined to get Wyatt no matter what the cost in life or property.

Alonso Hendricks, a negro youth, was arrested on a charge of carrying a revolver. He declared on the witness stand that the Rev. Charles Thomas, pastor of the colored Methodist church, had given him the weapon and told him to use it. Hendricks said Thomas spoke from his pulpit Sunday in reference to the lynching and advised his congregation to arm themselves and be ready to meet the attacks of white people. Thomas was later arrested. He denied Hendricks' charges. The minister has appealed to Sheriff Thompson for protection.
